Conferences to be Held in Two Cities Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Str ng dock workers and employi ship owners rested on their cars today here and at other Coast ports and the situation remained unchanged. Employer associations expressed gratification over the telegram sent by Secretary of Labor William H. Wilson urging the strikers to adhere to their agreement to give sixty days' notice before quitting work. Strike leaders refused to discuss the telegram and said that any reply that may have been made would have to be made public by the Secretary of Labor.
R. C. Thackara, secretary of the Waterfront Employers' Union, said today that no attempt would be made to resume work here tomorrow and that the only cargoes handled would be by the companies that had given in to the strikers' demaids. He would not discuss their programme beyond Monday.

Conferences between employers and strikers have been arranged here and in Portland, Or. The Portland conference will be held tomorrow; the one in San Francisco probably not until Wednesday as the officers of the Interpational Longshoremen's Association, who will participate, will not leave Sesttie, it was announced tonight, until tomorrow. day here and at other Coast por ously since 1861. made the following announcement upon the arrival of the Bear today:

STOPS CARRYING FREIGHT.

"After defraying the cost of fuel and water consumed in hoisting cargo, cordage, dunnage, lubricants, lights, towage, wear and tear of machinery, crew, overtime, dockage, recoppering, receiving and delivering, manifesting, accounts and claims, there is not enough revenue left at present freight rates to take up the longshoremen, which with the new working conditions, amounts to about 50 per cent, and the company is therefore regretfully compelled to fempography retire from freight transportation, hereafter carrying passengers only."

There is a report circulating among the officials of the company that unless the strike is settled soon the three vessels of the company may be taken off the coastwise run between here and Portland and sent offishore at charter rates that will pay better returns on the investment. The company operates the steamers Beaver, Boar and Rose City.

The steamers Yale, Harvard and Congress of the Pacific Coast Steamers Sand basgage only. The Yale arrived from San Diego today on schedule and proceeded to San Francisco and the Harvard, arriving from San Francisco, will lay over here until Tuesday. The Pacific Coast steamer Congress proceeded to San Diego and will call tomorrow on the return trip to San Francisco and Puget Sound with the freight loaded last week at Puget Sound ports still in the hold.

UNCONVENTIONAL "BARBIERE"

Individually they voted a number of other gratifying things about the performance and the performers with their enthusiasm that it would take a many-sared chronicler to set down with any degree of accuracy.

The—opera chosen for the boys and girls, averaging 14 or 15 years of age, who attended the presentation, was that delicious mixture of follies and fancies, a fairy tale transplanted into everyday life in far-away Spain of years agone, "The Barber of Seville." It had been given previously on Wednesday night. The cast was the same. Constantine, Bernice de Pasquali, Trevisan, Bennyan and Picchi tripped their way through the merry action of the play, and lightly caroled the dancing phrases of the music in a way to capture the heart of every child in the audience. And the orchestra was a many-voiced instrument that spoke a wonderful language all its own that hung about dimly in the background.

And while on the stage and in the orchestra there was the music that was made of singing voices and singing instruments, out in the audience there was the music that was made of the rippling laughter of youth, with the soft accompaniment of whispered words. Every passage that seemed to have a stopping point was punctuated with a little gust of applause, and every clever bit of byplay on the stage received its ready reward. There has seldom been an audience in any theater that gave more fully of appreciation.

The climax came in the singing lesson episode in the third act, where Bernice de Pasquali trills light phrases, while Constantino, the cavalier count, disguised as a singing teacher, goes through the makebelleve of playing her accompaniment at a harmonium. After giving "Thou Brilliant Bird" from the opers, "The Pearl of Brasti," Mme, de Pasquali announced that she would present two songs that she herself had learned in school. Then she gave the Arditi walts song and here it was that the combination of

The mother was summoned by the police when they found her daughter living here as the wife of Frank Seaman. Subsequently, they learned the alleged wife was the eastern chum of Seaman's real wife, and had field here with Seaman.

The man and the girl were arrested several weeks ago. The eastern authorities were notified of the capture and informed the local police they would send men to take the couple back to New York to face charges. Instead the mother of the girl outsped the police and reached her daughter at the Florence Critenton Home yesterday. She will take the daughter to her home. The police will prosecute Seaman on a felony charge.

Shinyo and the Gen. Forbes, another freighter, which were tied to the pier, were slightly damaged before they were pulled out of the fire's geach. Steamship men said the loss would reach close to $500,000.

The Shinyo arrived Wednesday but the cargo was not touched until yesterday, when its owners, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, granted the demands of the striking longshoremen. The boat was emptied at 11 o'clock last night, three hours before the fire started. SAN FRANCISCO.

Government officials have just finished a careful inspection of the hull of the ship about which there is so much conjecture at present. The recent activity in building more war vessels and the national programme for preparedness leads many to believe that these officials have been looking over the vessel with the view of converting her into a mine-layer, which class of war vessels are more in demand at present than light-house tenders.

Naval officers at the shippards are believe tenders.

The plant and the query regarding the light-house tender.

Many messages have been received by the California Shipbuilding Company about a mine-layer. Specifications of a mine-layer have been detailed here by wire by the Naval Quartermaster's office at Washington. Officials of the company say that they are considering the advisability of bidding on such a vessel in the near future.

A toolimaker who recently left the plant today stated that the general make-up of the boat is much like a mine-layer on which he worked at Newport News three years ago. He says it is constructed of extra heavy steel and of sufficient tonnage to be used as a mine-layer.

A few days ago, Mrs. Lon Gates, who lives at the foothills west of the town, left her two small boys, aged 4 and 5 years, alone at the house to play. When she returned one of the children ran to meet her, crying: "Oh, mammal there's a snake behind the box." The mother discovered a huge rattlesmake colled behind a box on which the boys had been playing for some time. The reptile had twelve rattles.

you can obtain the

Encyclopaedia only at an increase of $11 to $19 per set

Only twelve days more—twelve working days—and our remarkable offer of the new "Handy Volume" issue of the new Encyclopaedia Britannica comes to an end.

Whatever further sets we shall be able to secure after that date we can offer to the public only at an increase of from $11 per set in the cheaper sets to $19 for the more expensive bindings.

In order to make such a tremendous reduction in the price we contracted with the publishers of the Britannica for an enormous printing; but even this big supply is nearly exhausted and in a few days our present offer must be withdrawn.

Fix the date - June 17th, Saturday at sunset in Chicago: 7.33 p. m.

No order posted from your home office, or of-fered after that day, date and hour will be accepted.

But you should not wait to send in your order. Some of bindings, especially the morocco leather, are now very hard to tain and only a small number of sets remain. We cannot guarate fill all orders received up to the date named.

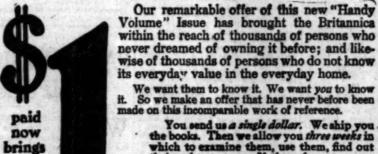

If you wish to make sure of the particular binding you prefer, advise you to send your order today.

All you have to do is to cut out the order form below, mark sign it, and send it with a single dollar.

All our arrangements for this sale, and all the publishers' confor paper, presswork, binding, leather and so forth, were made to the war began. Every one knows what a drastic rise in prices has since then. No industries have been more affected than the paper, ping and binding trades. The publishers therefore had to notify us that could not renew our contract.

We wish we could have gone on selling this great work at these prices for years, for we believe that nothing which we could have fered to the public would give them more lasting value nor at a great bargain. This is impossible, and we therefore give you this timely as

You take no risk-we take it all!

You send us a single dollar. We ship you the books. Then we allow you three weeks in which to examine them, use them, find out their value to you. If then, for any reason whatsoever, you wish to return the books, you may do so and your money is refunded with freight charges both ways.

In a word, it costs you nothing to examine the books in your own home, in your own easy-chair.

If you could buy a house or a horse or an automobile on such terms as these, you would not hesitate long, if the price was right. The price is right. You obtain the Encyclopaedia Britannica, the new Eleventh Edit'on, at one-third the price charged for the larger-sized "Cambridge University" issue of the same work.

Here is Our Absolute Guarantee

We Guarantee that the "Handy Volume" Issue is authorized by the publishers of the Encyclopaedia Britannica; that its contents are identical, page for page (including every map and illustration), with the Cambridge University issue now selling at three times the price; that it is manufactured by the same printers and binders as the more expensive book; that it is printed on the same quality of India paper, from newly made plates; and that, because it is smaller, it is easier to handle than the Cambridge issue.

These prices because the price is authorized by the publishers of the Encyclopaedia Britannica; that its contents are identical, page for page (including every map and illustration), with the Cambridge University issue

It may not be forgotten that since Abraham Lincoln was first elected President there has never been a time down to the present hour when the principles of the Republican party were repudiated by the voters of the nation. Its three defeats were due to dissatisfaction with nominations, or to the clashing ambitions of politicians, who, in order to wreak vengeance on a successful rival, did not hesitate to prove disloyal to a cause. In 1884 Blaine was defeated mainly because of the defection of Roscoe Conkling and his adherents in New York. Harrison was defeated for re-election in 1892 because of his utter disregard of the recommendations and solicitations of Senators of his party in the matter of Presidential appointments, and his cold-blooded and-discourteous treatment of their remonstrances. Taft was defeated because of the treachery of Roscoelt and the cunning of the big buil moose in fanning into a fame dissatisfaction with the methods of dissatisfaction with the methods of cago convention of 1912.

TOMORROW'S ELECTION—TAXES.

The issues pending in tomorrow's municipal election have been thoroughly discussed in The Times from day to day. The merits and demerits of the various propo-sitions on the ballot have been carefully canvassed; the people have expressed their views; and The Times has printed and will print again tomorrow a sample ballot, stamped as in the best judgment of this journal it should be stamped by discriminating voters. Above all does The Times hope-for the benefit of our city and its people—that the very dangerous charter be defeated and that the proposition to fritter away $8,000,000 on a municipal telephone system be voted down. The opportunity for the city to get the long-desired Second street tunnel on very favorable terms is so advantageous that the tunnel bonds should carry. The tunnel proposition is a peculiarly good bargain and an indubitably good

After all is said and done, the one vital at the present time is this: "How shall we stop the frightful increase in taxation?" All other questions should be subordinated to that one. City and county expenditures and taxes are piling up alarmingly. Property owners are suffering keenly; the plight orty owners are suffering keenly; the plight of many of them is pathetic; the smaller holders are burt the worst and some of them are veritably being eaten up. Men and women who have struggled, and scraped, and saved, and denied themselves the comforts of life for years in order to acquire a home, or a city lot, or a piece of country property, are finding it impossible to keep up their payments and at the same time meet the oppressive taxes levied upon to keep up their payments and at the same time meet the oppressive taxes levied upon them, and are compelled to throw up their hands and lose all they have put in—their years of toil and sacrifice gone. There are hundreds of such instances; they are pitiful. And still the office-holding blood-suckers are raising valuations, heaping new taxes upon us, swelling the office-holding army and finding new ways of spending our money. In the proposed new city charter are thirty-five ways of spending tax money never heard of in our city life before. Raider after raider appears at the and that-and who has the stamina to turn

Now, The Times cannot cure these evils for the people of Los Angeles; all it can do is to call attention to them and try to arouse the people to the realization of the need of saving themselves. The situation is deplorable and distressing. With such high taxes, and still higher in sight, Los Angeles cannot flourish as it should. There is imperative need of a change—of a return to an appreciation of the virtue of economy—if Los Angeles is to prosper mightily. The Times believes that conditions call for not only more careful business manage ment of municipal affairs, but an abso lutely Spartan scrutiny of every expendi-ture. The citizens should first get in this attitude themselves and then put the screws on their official representatives.

Yes, the voters, men and women, and not the "Good Old Dr. Times," must atend to this case, and, of course, The Times passes it over to them. It is their case. If they desire a continuance of the policy of lavish expenditure and multiplication of office-holders they will have it; they will vote for it. But let no man imagine that because he is not a taxpayer himself he will not suffer from municipal extrava-gance. The weight of the tax burden and the sorrows of the tax injustice must inevitably fall on the whole body of the people. a community's fortunes, injure every wage increase rental, reduce the purchasing ployment, decrease the family income and increase the family outgo. The effect is general. You cannot escape it, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, whether you pay a dollar's tax or not. It is time for you to wake up and protect yourself and your children. The Times repeats that every citizen, in markhis or her ballot on Tuesday, should give foremost consideration to the need of self-protection against the avalanche of municipal money-equandering and the tidal wave of high taxes.

There is only one way and only one place and only one time for seeking that protection. The method is the ballot; the place is at the polls, and the time is NOW. Every well-wisher of the city who looks at the situation fairly and squarely and for-gets any little personal interest must join in the hope that we may have another revival in Los Angeles-a revival of municipal sanity, putting an end to reckless mutax oppression, and ushering in an era of conservatism and economy.

Daniel O'Connell is credited with the aphorism that the most beneficent statutes enacted by the British Parliament were law repealing previous laws. The members of November will not make the establishmen tection their only duties. Of almost equa importance will be the duty of repealing a tic, experimental, fad-ridden Congresses have injected into the Federal statutes. These

Among the laws there are some that are merely unnecessary, others that are obnoxious, and others that place a strangle clutch

Laws have been enacted by both Federal and State legislators who were hungry for adulation, while experienced business men of high ability and unsmirched integrity serving Democratic high-salaried commis-sioners who knew more about spellbinding and caucus manipulation than they did about double entry book-keeping or the conduct of any industrial or commercial en

Lawyer and Bankers' magazine is authority for the statement that 70,000 laws have been enacted by Congress and the various State legislatures during the past few years. Some laws intended to prevent monoplies have only produced disintegration and resulted merely in the creation of a number of small monopolies instead of the continuation of one large one and the conse uence has been an increase in the cost to the consumer of the commodity produced. The Federal Trade Commission thrust a knife into the vitals of competition. The referred to magazine says editorially:

"Banks and corporations are forbidden to avail themselves of the advice of the brainiest men of the country because of the 'interlocking directorate' abomination, hastily written in the Clayton law at the behest of Untermeyer, Brandeis and Pujo, a provision which the present Congress has already found it necessary to modify. Banks are prevented from assisting in the expansion of foreign trade because it is illegal for them to jointly establish foreign branches. A large part of the nailroad mileage of the land is in the hands of receivers because of the malrailroad mileage of the land is in the hands of receivers because of the maladministration of commission government which refuses living rates to the carriers. Excessive labor demands have been encouraged in all industries by legalizing boycotts and the modifying of Federal injunctions. Mr. Wilson's unfortunate selections in his Cabinet, the general weakness of his appointments all through, and the failure of a Democratic House and Senate to standlike a rock against all attempts to crush big business simply because it is big, big business simply because it is big, will result in writing a story of politi-cal disaster occasioned by lack of far-sightedness and statesman-like quali-

Those who, like Bryan and Ford, oppose preparedness, urge that the oceans which wash our Atlantic and Pacific and Gulf oasts, place such a distance between us and either European or Asiatic enemies as oceans are not so wide as they were one in machinery and in the construction of hulls have made it possible for a great steamer to carry thousands of soldiers, with their arms and equipment and heavy guns, across the Atlantic in five days, and across the Pacific in ten days. By us-ing 25 per cent. of their merchant marine as an adjunct to their navy, Germany cou embark at one sailing 250,000 troops, as England more than 1,000,000. What be the fate of our little army, and what would be the suffering and agonles of our people if such an aggregation of troops as either England or Germany are capable of sending should be landed upon our shores? Most of the combatant n Europe were suddenly and unexpectedly forced into the conflict, and no one can tel what may happen now that the war spirit has set the world on fire and crased the brain of nations. Neither men nor nations can at all times "choose what course they will take, or find their chosen course what they had expected it to be; because of the evil designs of another the course which seemed peaceful and safe may become turbulent and dangerous. We read of such unfortunate and unpleasant experiences in the lives of both individuals and nations."

There is no truer apothegm than that "the best security for peace is the most tremendous preparation for war." To quote Congressman Fields again: "When the honest, peaceable citizen retires after a day's labor he expects, and has a right to ct, a night of peaceful rest; but yet, with his desire for rest and his good inten-tions to go peacefully about his honest pur-suit on the morrow, the evil heart of the burglar may be designing plans by which to enter his home and take from him the fruits of his honest toil, and may make him his victim in poverty or death ere the ris-ing of another sun. But, if the burglar learned in advance that his would-be victhe moral courage to use his weapons for defense, he would most surely change his mind and stay his effort to carry into exe-cution his wicked designs; and the same argument will apply to the belligerent forces

[London Chronicle:] Cardinal Newman, who thought so little of his "Dream of Gerontius," was not the only author to underestimate the value of his own work. Scott threw the original draft of the "Lay of the Last Minstrel" into the fire and was only necessated to rewrite it by two triends to persuaded to rewrite it by two friends to whom he had read it. John Keble, too, was averse to publishing his "Christian Year," yielding only to his father's desire to see the book in print before he died, and Edward Fitzgerald was equally diffident regarding his "Rubalyat of Omar Khayyam."
There is a story also that Kipling's "Recessional" was rescued from the author's Broadening School Work. The survey will cover condition of workers, maximum and minimum wages, chances for promotion and any other information that will serve to throw light on the character of the specific vocation. A study of the social, civic and economic conditions of the city will also be mail. WHAT ROOSEVELT SHOULD DO NOW.

[The Argonaut:] Careful study of the pre-convention situation con vinces the Argonaut that Mr. Roose velt's candidacy is as impossible a the party in 1912 and who comes to his convention door today bearing in his hand a club in the form of an independent party in session just around the corner is not the man who has any right to party confidence or favor. But apart from this consideration—upon practical grounds—Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy is an improper one. To make him the nominee would be equivalent to party suicide. It would be a confession of weakness destructive alike to public respect and party self-respect. Mr. Roosevelt has indeed enthusiastic friends, mostly of the emotional type, instinctively attracted by audacity and melodramatics. But there are hundreds of thousands of sober and thoughtful men—some hyphenates, too—who could not under any circumstances be brought to vote for him. If, such men reason, incapacity it to rule in the country, then let the responsibility rest with the Democratic party; and to this sentiment there are multitudes to say amen.

Yet there probably abides in Mr. Roosevelt's hands, as the leader of a radical element, the power to elect or to defeat any candidate who may be named. His personal following, we think, is still large enough, with the machinery of the Progressive organization, to do again in 1916 what was done in 1912. If Mr. Roosevelt be not a highly potential figure inside the party, he is at least a highly potential figure outside it. Conceding him the power to make or mar the fortunes of the country, it would seem that his course should lie plainly before him. He ought as a patriot to lend the forces under his hand to the selection of the fittest available man for the Presidency. He knows who that man is as well or better than anybody. In his days of administrative authority it was to Elihu Root that he turned as guide, philosopher and friend. He has again and again borne witness to the fact that Mr. Root is the most capable figure in our public life.

Making no secret of its distrust of Mr. Roosevelt, the Argonaut nevertheless does him the justice to concede his love of his country. He has an opportunity to exhibit it. We believe that the great influence in his hands to Mr. Root. It would be the course of patriotism; likewise a course in line with his individual interest. He has nothing to gain thr

SCATTERED THOUGHTS.

Once there was a man who had read the Rubaiyat so many times that he knew it by heart. Then he recited it to himself so many times that he began to understand it. Now this man was a great chemist as well as a great thinker, and after the fifty-eighth recitation, the idea of dying became such a horror and injustice to him that he decided not to die.

He was a man of singularly sin-cere purpose, and so he went hon-estly and sincerely to his laboratory and mixed four powders in a chop-ping bowl. He then lit a bunsen burner, for all the world the way they do in physics classes, and heatthey do in physics classes, and heated a green liquid. When the liquid began to bubble he threw in the powders and recited Lamb's essay on poor relations backward. He then removed the vessel from the fire, and after locking the seven doors that led into his laboratory and filling seven small bottles with the liquid it contained, he raised it to his lips and swallowed the remainder—and nothing happened—except that when he died at the ripe old age of $1, his heirs discovered that the liquid made splendid furniture polish. Besides, some of the best people attended the old man's funeral.—[Florence Lowe in man's funeral.—[Florence Lowe in Bruno's Weekly.

PAYING FOR IT.

BY ALMA WHITAKER. It is one of the merry little fronies of life that we always have to pay for the privilege of being deyesterday: "If I marry again it will have to be a rich man who can afford to pay for the beauty luxuries I shall need to deceive him with." She laughed wickedly, but actually, that isn't a joke. It's the solemn truth. Any little capital she outlays to catch him will be in the nature of ital and interest and continue to ital and interest and continue to support the illusion—or lose it.

And as for the wife who is being deceived—she pays all along the line. The more she is deceived the dearer she pays for it. While she is economizing, perhaps doing her own housework, making all the children's clothes, keeping down the grocer's bills, growing the vegetables and rearing the chickens, it gives hubby all the more facility for purchasing that little electric for his affinity. You can't get an affinity to grow vegetables and make her his affinity. You can't get an affinity to grow vegetables and make ber own clothes, not if she knows it. She is not being deceived. But he is, if she is clever enough to get the is, if she is clever enough to get the electric.

There is no more deceitful person than the amateur siren—she who culls all the presents and entertainment she can get, promises all things with her eyes, but considers that her virtue is unimpaired so long as she stops short of the ultimate concession. And oh, how the deceived ones pay for their own hoodwinking!

I think we all like being deceived a bit if it takes a flattering form. It is always safe to tell a woman you think she's beautiful, even if she thinks you a fool. Some fools are very attractive. And it is always quite safe to tell a man you think he is clever—and strong-willed—even if he knows your judgment to be imperfect. Some fallactes are so alluring.

even if he knows your judgment to be imperfect. Some fallacies are so alluring.

And if we covet any article how grateful we are to the salesman who tells us it is a real bargain at the price. That it is only $19.50 today, but was marked down from $40 the day before.

And we love to be assured that our little gift was adorable, just the very thing she had been wanting for months. We should never forgive her for saying it was a silly gift and in rotten bad taste at that. We would much rather she went back and changed it on the sly and lied to us about it.

And where is your society hostess who dotes on giving parties who does not lap up your assurances that you have had a good time. Try telling her the truth for once and see how she will detest you. The more horrible the party the more she craves your kind lies. She will willingly go through all the tortures of another to hear you repeat them.

We are never more deceived than in our charities. How many of us take unction to our souls for what we are pleased to regard as our charity. Those of us who get up stylish fetes and amateur performances and parades, and spend any amount of money on the gown we are to show off in; who seize the opportunity to parade our talents and our charms, who get our names are to show off in; who seize the opportunity to parade our talents and our charms, who get our names in the newspapers—how virtuous we manage to feel, how sublimely we congratulate ourselves on our generous consideration—and how we are deceived? Even when we give without the accompaniment of much publicity our self-satisfaction and sense of consequence intrudes itself. No matter how much good our donations may do the donee, very few of those "charitable impulses" of ours will be recorded to our credit in heaven. But is costs us quite a lot to deceive ourselves into thinking they will.

And to think that while the world is full of philosophers seeking after truth these are our obvious preferences. Truth—there is nothing we fear, more! We dread it with all our puny souls. We will gladly pay to be deceived—millions for deception, but not one cent for truth.

edly firmer feeling in the commercial paper market. Institutions are inclined to wait in anticipation of higher rates. Six months paper has already been affected, as there is now a limited market for it under 1% per cent. The volume of turnover continues small.

Bankers' acceptances also reflect the harder tendency. While the range for sixty-day acceptance is still 2 per cent. to 2% per cent. that or ninety days is now 2 per cent. to 23-4 per cent.

Business situation: What the steel industry will lose from cutting off of munitions orders it expects to make up in the reconstruction of shattered Europe. Recent booking of 80,000 tons of steel rails for the French government and other orders, bringing the rail tonnage for France ordered here up to near 175,000, are considered significant in the extreme. JAPAN BUSILY WIDENING CONTROL OF SEA LANES.

Shipyards, Both in Nippon and in China, Turning Out Tonnage at Tremendous Rate and Government Subsidies Send Vessels Under Mikado's Flag to the Earth's Ends—Other Industries Rushing.

RECENT consular reports from the Orient all indicate a great activity in shipbuilding, as well as steady gain by Japan in the control of Pacific shipping and Oriental trade. Shippards, in Hongkong, Shanghai, Kobe and Yokohama are exceedingly busy, the vessels under construction being built for Japanese, Chinese, Norwegian and British companies. The last named have been forced, it is declared, to build in the Orient because of the overcrowded condition of the yards in Europe, due to war orders. The only American ships under construction in the Orient were ordered by the Philippine government and are being built at Hongkong. The Norwegian orders are said to have gone to the Orient because Scandinavian yards are congested with orders from all over Europe since the removal of much belligerent competition.

other subsidided ships under construction, with an aggregate tonnage of 138,559. Last November the Manchurian Daily News estimated that at that time, out of 490,000 tonnage in the trans-Pacific trade, after the withdrawal of the Pacific Mail, no less than 430,000 tons were under the Japa nese flag, leaving but 60,000 tons under all other flags, the American included. Since that date the Japanese tonnage has undoubtedly been increased, both absolutely and relatively.

AFTER ISLAND TRADE. Not content with following the old-established trans-Pacific routes over which Japanese vessels are plying between ports of Nippon on the one hand and those of the United States, Mexico, Central and South America on the other, the Japanese are seeking to open trade with the islands of the Pacific. For instance, the South Sea Commercial Company, a Japanese corporation, has been granted a subsidy of $21,000 a year to establish a line to the Caroline Islands. The avowed object is to encourage development of the islands by Japanese capital.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 1916, the Japanese 8 paid out in subsidies for shipbuilding $767,600. This was divided among four each were owned by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, their aggregate tonnage being 25,951 and 25,311 tons respectively. The latter company last year put two new 9500-ton vessels, the Manila the Bank of England. The interest rate charged the London banks was 4% per cent. per annum. Participation certificates were issued by the American committee and it was reported that about two hundred institutions throughout the country had purchased them. The $50,000,000 was placed on deposit with the National City Bank, the Guaranty Trust Company and the Bankers' Trust Company and the Bankers' Trust Company.

According to bankers who are in a position to know, not a dollar of the $50,000,000 has been expended. The unused credit, therefore, has cost the London banks 3% per cent. per annum, or $625,000,000 has been expended. The unused credit, therefore, has cost the London banks 3% per cent. per annum, or $625,000,000 has been expended. The unused credit in the United States has materially helped to steady sterling exchange, and that the interest charges were well worth while.

ships of 1000 tons and upward, has grown from eighteen to thirty-seven. Of these, five are at the Osaka ironworks, two at the Mitsubishi dockyard in Kobe, six at the Kawasaki dockyard, six at the Inoshima works and two each at the Watsuo ironworks, the Ono ironworks, Fuji-Nagata dockyard, Uraga dockyard, Ishikawajima dockyard and Harima dockyard. Shipbuilding mechanics in Japan number about 40,000, of whom the Mitsubishi dockyard of Kobe and Nagasaki, and the Kawasaki dockyard employ 10,000 each, the Osaka ironworks 9000 and the other companies the remaining 11,000. The demand for skilled workmen has increased greatly and wages had already gone up about 10 per cent. the middle of April with the prospect of further increases being demanded shortly. The average pay of the skilled workmen during April was 36 to 37 cents per day.

been quickly recognized and seized upon. The Japanese are giving attention to dyes, drugs, paints and other chemical lines, in some of which Germany has enjoyed a monopoly. The older industries, many of them established since the Russian war, are banking, mining, oil, spinning, in surance, railways and electric power and light, all of which are being greatly extended. The latter company last year put two new 3500-ton vessels, the Manila Maru and the Hawali Maru, on the American run, the former to Tacoma, the latter to Honolulu and San Francisco, this in effect taking the place of one of the withdrawn steamers of the Pacific Mail. The move is considered a distinct triumph for Japanese policies, brains, capital and labor over American.

with 1913, the latest normal year, amounting in the ten months ending with October to $61,793,673, against $23,257,783 in the corresponding months of 1913, having thus practically trebled since the beginning of the war.

The chief articles in which the Acids amount to over $8,000,000 in the ten months ending with October as compared to $163,896 for the same months in 1913; bark extracts for tanning, over $2,000,000, against $400,000 in the same months in 1913; dye and dyesusfa, over $2,000,000 against $257,000 in 1913; soda saits, $5,500,000, while the quantity in 1913 was so small that it was separately stated. The group "all other chemicals" for 1915 was $31,500,000, against $7,250,000 for the first ten months of 1913. The acids, which are presumably used in the manufacture of high explosives and of which the exports are twenty times as much in value as in the corresponding period of the latest normal year, go mainly to the countries at war. Bark extracts for tanning, of which exports are eight times of those of the latest normal year, go chiefly to England, which in former years has secured her supply from Germany and Argentina.

No Perspective to Record.

Helene Lackaye, the Orpheum's "Overtones" star, is a sister of both Wilton Lackaye and James Lackaye. But she doesn't have to shine by any reflected glory, being a luminary in her own right, with a record to back it up—a record not too long, you know, but just long enough.

Cort Denies Responsibility.

Tid-Bits, Trixie Friganza's tiny poodle, and a member of the cast of "Canary Cottage," is in the dog-hospital, suffering from dos-pip or something. Miss Friganza doesn't know whether it's temperament or distemper, which Tid-Bits has, but in the meantime his unworthy understudy, an animal rescued from the popular song, "Mother."

Edith Lyle, the beautiful new Burbank tonight in Owen Davis's new play, "Mile-a-Minute Kendali" Fred Butler, stage director, says that "Mile-a-Minute Kendali" has put the muffler on the villain, and is a real comedy, even if it is by Owen Davis. However, the pink gingham heroine, in the person of Miss Lyle, remains.

ren?" in which Tyrone Power is this week. One is, to express you as your disposition may require and the other would be to laguh your head off at the whole sorry mess. Neither course is moderation, how-ever. I hereby refrain from vioabout the best film fight I have ever witnessed.

This mastery rough and tumble battle of brawn, and the prettiness and dainty acting, of promising little Bessie Love are absolutely the only redeeming features of "Reggie Mixes In."
The story bears a rather sad resemblance to the "No Good Guy," in which Willie Collier was starred, but it lacks the comedy enriching the latter. Th only laugh in this "Reegie" picture is where Douglas Fairbanks himself smile in two or three instances, and one almost suspects that he is laughing at the badness of the script; and some of the pyrotechnics of the directing.

In spite of the fact that it is not plausible at any point, the story is not without a certain interest and the programme at the Palace is further strengthened by an unusually laughable slapstick comedy of two reels in which the Keystone company stars Roscoe Arbuckle. If you like comedy of this order, you will find "His Wife's Mistake" uproarlously funny.

Marglorie Davis, who has been playing leads, at the Burbank, is togo to San Francisco with "The Brat."
